ShowCDR Provides Instant Access to CDRs

Easily research, investigate, and analyze call detail records

A SOPHISTICATED CDR SEARCH SYSTEM

ShowCDR offers carriers a powerful tool to view, search, and report on call records, providing up-to-the-minute data to manage their networks. The advanced searching and reporting functionality available in ShowCDR allows carriers to better interpret and respond to valuable data quickly, providing these companies a competitive market edge. Timely analysis of CDRs in their raw switch format provides carriers essential data for enhanced fraud investigation, trouble reporting, traffic analysis, and customer support.

"I COULDN'T RUN MY NETWORK WITHOUT IT!"

From fraud managers to switch technicians, CEOs to billing managers, at carriers large and small, we often hear this type of endorsement from ShowCDR users. Most people who try ShowCDR love it. The best CDR search utility on the market, ShowCDR eliminates the need for slow and cumbersome switch-based searches, offering direct access to call records from desktop PCs. With an intuitive, menu-driven Windows interface, users can easily run ShowCDR, without having to memorize and enter the many unique commands required for a switch-based search.

TECHNOLOGY INVESTMENT FOR THE ENTIRE COMPANY

Since ShowCDR allows users to view CDR files stored in their raw binary format, carriers use it for a wide array of tasks from billing research to fraud management. Users can view the CDRs in sequential order, search for specific records using simple search criteria, or create sophisticated queries based any field or combination of fields. Users can save search criteria to be re-used or modified for future searches. Users can select any of the call record fields to generate customized call record reports on demand, and save the report specifications for future use. Reports can also be printed and saved as comma delimited files, allowing access from any spreadsheet or database application.
